

The "Name Game"

This is a warm-up, get to know you game for kids through adults.

All you need is:

- 3x 5 cards
- Marking Pen(medium or wide point)
- Safety Pins

Before the party, print neatly the name of a person or character associated with Halloween onto a 3x5 card.

Use a different name on each card.

Make up enough cards for more than each person invited to the party, especially for kids. This can be such a fun game, that party participants often want to play it more than once.

Upon arriving, use a safety pin to put one card on each guests' back. Do not tell them who is on the card.

Game Objective: To guess who "you" are, the name on your back.

Rules:

1. You can ask only one question of a guest, before moving to another guest to ask a question.
2. Only "Yes" and "No" answers can be given.
3. Laughing, facial expressions, etc are certainly allowed.
4. Look for questions which will quickly narrow the quest such as:
  1. Am I a male(or female)?
  2. Am I a real person(versus fictional character)?
5. If a guest guesses too quickly, give them another name tag.
